Bucs Play First Home Game of Season Friday

Revised Football Schedule Makes Game One of Three Slated Here in 1948

Smarting from defeat at the hands of Lincoln High last Friday, and determined on a comeback victory over San Jose Tech, Campbell Union High School Varsity plays its first home game of the season at 3:15 p.m. Friday.

The Bucs will play on their own field where they are due for a big hand from local fans.

As the varsity schedule now stands, the 11 will play on home soil only three times this season, so Campbellites will be out in full force to see them in action Friday afternoon.

The Santa Clara game, first slated for Campbell on Oct. 15 will be played at Santa Clara instead, at 8 p.m. a week from Friday.

Remainder of the games will take the Bucs to Gilroy Oct. 22, line them up against Fremont here Oct. 29, see them at Mt. View Nov. 12 and at Washington Nov. 19.

The season will wind up with the traditional Los Gatos game on the Campbell sod Thanksgiving Day.

130 SCHEDULE

The 130 squad, reduced from its 60 aspirants to a more workable 30-odd members, has seven stiff bouts ahead. They'll play in the following order:

Oct. 15 — Campbell vs. Santa Clara, Santa Clara, 6:00 p.m.

Oct. 22—Campbell vs. Gilroy, Gilroy, 6:30 p.m.

Oct. 28—Campbell vs. Fremont, Campbell, 3:00 p.m.

Nov. 12—Campbell vs. Mt. View, Mt. View, 6:00 p.m.

Nov. 19—Campbell vs. Washington, Washington, 6:00 p.m.

Nov. 25 — Campbell vs. Los Gatos, Campbell, 9:00 a.m.

Our Town

Cambrian corners is absolutely handsome these days, what with the older portion of the school paited white and trimmed in brick red to match the new building. For a while it looked as though the Spanish style of the old building could never be reconciled with the American Federal architecture of the new classrooms, but they did it.

Then, the new fire station is almost complete, just across the corner.

And up in the next block, Harvey Sheeder (we hear) is building a set of stores—handy by a group of new houses done in the attractive ranch style.

That bike left at the corner of Central and Campbell avenue was claimed by its owner, Miss Betty Williams.

Discussing the reported sale of a local shop to its employes, John Schebetta quipped "It's the meanest thing an owner could do to his men this year."

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are in for an exciting week as San Jose prepares to entertain the State Encampment. Of course, we're biased, but we think the Campbell Rebekahs are just the most attractive group of lodge members in the state! Best wishes for the success of that booth Friday night in San Jose.

Inaugurating a new policy, The Campbell Press today begins a series of editorials on page 2. To lead off, we chose some comments on National Newspaper Week which ends Friday, and is a subject mighty close to our hearts.

West Valley Hospital Vote Set for Jan. 11

Date for a special election for voters in Campbell, Redwood and Saratoga townships was set for Jan. 11, 1949, by the County Board of Supervisors.

Formation of the West Valley Hospital District will be decided by the January vote.

Advocates of the plan pointed out that establishment of a hospital is the only issue at stake in the forthcoming election. Construction of a hospital to serve the three townships will be made possible, but not mandatory by approval of the district.

Five directors to administer the district will be appointed by the Board of Supervisors if the measure is approved. Directors will serve without pay until the district holds its first regular election.

Laurance J. Hill and Herbert M. Shadle of Campbell have served on the West Valley Hospital committee for Campbell township dur-

H. S. Football Player Injured in Practice

A high school junior, Elden Silva, was reportedly hurt seriously during a practice scrimmage on the high school grounds last Tuesday. He was said by O'Connor Hospital officials to have suffered a hard blow on the head which was feared at first to be a concussion. X-rays have been taken of the lad but as yet no positive diognosis has been made. He was resting comfortably today (Thursday) at the hospital where he will remain for observation.

Young Silva is an expert saxaphone player at the school, and has his own band. He is very popular with his classmates who wish him a speedy recovery.

Sheriff To Speak At C of C Meeting

Christmas Fund Is Over $125

Advance contributions to the Christmas Decoration Fund now total over $125. Teams of members of the Chamber of Commerce Merchant's Committee are getting into the spirit of the drive to decorate Campbell streets for the second consecutive year. All of the lights and wiring purchased last year will be used again this year, but it is the plan of the committee to augment them with decorations for Campbell avenue and to double the amount of lights used last year.

The goal is $100, which is considered to be the minimum amount necessary to do a satisfactory job of decorating. Arrangements are in the hands of Frank Accardi, general chairman of the Merchants Committee. Voluntary contributions of Campbell citizens are welcomed. There is no set amount an individual or firm may give. Every dollar will help immensely. Money or

Prowler Rifles Cash Register

Sheriff's deputies are today looking for a slim and wiggly prowler who broke into the Modern Shoe Service Shop in the Virginia City Court at 211 East Campbell avenue. Between 30 and 40 dollars in bills was taken from the cash register. Nickels, pennies and dimes in the register were left untouched. The disdain with which the robber reacted over the several dollars in small change led officers to believe he was a

Protest Crowding Of 2000 into Rooms Built for 1030

Over-crowded conditions in the Campbell Union School District have caused some 28 classrooms to be on double session. This means that approximately 800 children are being deprived of the benefits of a full day's school during the best period of the day. The enrollment of the Campbell Union School District has increased from aproximately 1030 students four years ago to over 2000 at the present time. There are at present 300 houses under construction and 1000 lots approved for sub-division in this area for further development to add to the above figures. There will be additional children entering school each year due to the large number of babies that have been born during the past six years.

To relieve this situation, the Board of Trustees of the Campbell District have called a special Bond Election for October 15, 1948, at which time the voters will decide upon a Bond issue of $277,000, the maximum amount that can be raised at this time.

If passed, it is tentatively plan-

NEWSPAPER WEEK

National Newspaper Week is being observed from October 1 to 8 this year with the slogan "Your Right to Know Is The Key To All Your Liberties."

Newspapering—or journalism, to give it a $4 name—is a respected but little understood profession. The average reader has little conception of the mechanics of putting a newspaper together or of the traditions and ethics of editing.

Few know the problems of production, of newsprint, of rising costs. They do not see the publisher wrestling with these problems and with problems affecting the common good which he, only human after all, is expected to solve with Jovian wisdom. They accept the product and grumble when it is a few minutes late.

But despite — perhaps because of — being taken for granted in this manner, the newspaper is an institution beloved by its readers who trust it implicitly as the watchdog for the welfare of the community.

National Newspaper Week underscores this relationship between paper and reader by calling attention to the fundamental truth that "Your Right To Know Is The Key To All Your Liberties."

COMMUNITY CHEST

The annual Community Chest appeal for funds is being made this month as is the usual custom. This appeal should find a ready response from the American people.

The Community Chest has proved its value and usefulness over the years in helping the needy, preventing juvenile delinquency, and providing wholesome recreation and group training for the underprivileged.

To carry on this constructive work the organization must have adequate funds. The rising cost of all things makes it necessary that we increase our donations so that no worthy activity will have to be curtailed.

We are spending billions abroad to help other nations. We should be willing to spend a tiny fraction of that amount to help those here at home who deserve assistance.

So, when the Community Chest solicitor comes to your home or your office make it a point to give all you can. You'll be contributing something more than money—health, happiness and encouragement to needy fellow citizens.

Garden Club Flower Show Plans Set

With definite plans made, keen interest has developed among the numerous flower clubs in Santa Clara County, in the forthcoming flower show and tea, to be held October 20, at the Country Woman's Club in Campbell. The day-long affair promises to be an elaborate undertaking by the youthful Campbell Garden Club. Individual flower arrangements will be exhibited by club members possessing this particular talent.

With so much interest in new school activities, the appropriately decorated teen-age table will be a happy answer to many mothers when Johnny or Mary insist on having the "gang in" after the big game.

Showers, showers—and we don't mean April—will be a pleasant task for the active hostess after she absorbs the clever ideas which will be shown at the infants table. The harvest table with its multi-colored arrangements, the wedding tables, as well as the individually displayed exhibits, make the show a "must" on our list of important activities this fall.

The Garden club met Wednesday afternoon to hear final reports of committees before the show.

WEDGEWOOD . . . OVER 65 YEARS LEADER IN THE WEST

Former Los Gatan, World Traveler, Presents Lecture Series on Bible

Dr. Franklin F. Farrington, one-time resident of Los Gatos and well-known as a lecturer and teacher of practical metaphysics is presenting a series of public lectures at the Hotel Sainte Claire, San Jose, each Sunday at 11 a.m., and Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Assisted by his wife, who is also a gifted speaker, Dr. Farrington has been lecturing to enthusiastic audiences throughout the United States and Canada for over 27 years.

"We base our teachings on the Bible," said Dr. Farrington, when interviewed.

"We believe that God's will for His creation is health, wealth and joy, and that this is possible for everyone through individual attunement."

Although he has been offered opportunities to represent large organizations, Dr. Farrington has refused any sponsorship.

"We prefer to remain independent messengers," is his smiling comment.

A clergyman of the Congregational church for 12 years, Dr. Farrington abandoned the orthodox ministry in order to reach the people of all faiths with his message of hope and cheer.

A man of distinguished and cheerful appearance, Dr. Farrington believes in practicing the principles he teaches. His interests cover a wide field. He studied law at the Illinois College of Law and public speaking at the Phillips School of Oratory; wrote textbooks that are being used by Harvard Business School and many universities including Oxford University in England, and, with Mrs. Farrington studied Chinese classics in Peiping, China.

The Farringtons have been 'round the world' in addition to their extensive travel in this country and Canada, and spent many days visiting the Holy Land (Palestine) when that part of the world was more peaceful than at present.

Mrs. Farrington gained experience for her public work as a school teacher in San Francisco.

California's commercial timber resources are estimated at 33 billion board feet of redwood and 148 billion board feet of pine, fir and other species.

In the United States, the most popular of various strains of the Merino sheep is the French or Rambouillet.

Homes of 1,683 Children Are Saved by Conciliation Court

Judge Georgia P. Bullock, judge presiding in Department 8-A of the Los Angeles Superior Court, in releasing today the six months report of Margaret C. Harpstrite, commissioner and director of the Children's Court of Conciliation, from March 1 to August 31, 1948, indicated:

Cases filed	438
Reconciliations effected	145
Children involved	321
Percentage of Reconciliations	33.10%

Pointing with radiant 'judgely pride' to the outstanding accomplishments of the Children's Court, Judge Bullock stated, "Since March 1, 1946, to August 31, 1948, according to the official records, not only has the home life of 1,683 children both boys and girls been continued and maintained, but in reality the court has made a very extensive and substantive contribution to the prevention of juvenile delinquency."

"For the past 30 months," continued Judge Bullock, "through the avoidance of 661 divorces, 1,322 husbands and wives were kept together and started on a new path, a new life—through the harmonizing of their domestic problems by the efforts of the court."

"From such a humble beginning in 1939, the Court has grown to full judicial stature, and quoting Presiding Judge Charles E. Haas, of our Court 'The Children's Court of Conciliation is an essential and necessary part of our judicial system.' While 102 new cases were filed in August, 1948, additional personnel are urgently needed to keep abreast of the increasing business."

F. Charles O'Leary, prominent Los Angeles attorney, commenting on the report stated, "When we consider that in this county alone during 1946 and 1947, of the 11,248 boys and girls brought before Juvenile Court, over 51 per cent or 5,755 children came from homes broken principally by divorce, then Director Harpstrite is assisting our youth on a very extensive scale, while at the same time rendering outstanding service to so many California citizens."

Homemaking Today

By Claire Raymond

Party foods for home entertaining! If guests are due and "What shall I serve?" puzzles you, suggestions from "R.S.V.P." will help you out. This is a set of 16 recipe cards which you may obtain free of charge. With the holiday season approaching, you will welcome these enticing ideas.

Refreshments are the high spot of most parties and the wise hostess plans food which is her specialty. However, it is smart to increase your list of specialties by mastering new ideas well before the party.

One of the most difficult problems for you as hostess, if you do your own work, is to plan your party so that you really can be a hostess, not just a cook who is glimpsed occasionally. This means doing everything possible ahead of time.

For a dessert party, R.S.V.P. has several recipes for refreshments which may be made in advance, such as the Apricot Refrigerator Cake, Chocolate Roll with Fluffy Filling, or Pumpkin Chiffon Pie. You'll find these desserts fun to make and the recipes easy to follow.

No event is ever quite so special as a children's party—whether the occasion is a birthday or one of the holidays so dear to children's hearts. And, of course, the cake is always the center of attraction. The Carousel Cake with its striped canopy and merry-go-round animals is perfect for a birthday or circus party, yet it is simple to make. This is another of the unusual ideas suggested in "R.S.V.P."

Fancy homemade yeast breads shouldn't be overlooked when planning food for entertaining. They are more appetite-pricking than plain rolls for "company" meals. By using the Basic Sweet Dough recipe you can make Crescents, Rosebud Rolls, Fantans or a Swedish Tea Ring. It is only 90 minutes from the time you start the sponge until the rolls come out of the oven. They can be served immediately, or reheated just before serving.

Cookies, too, belong with seasonal parties. You can vary the flavor of the Basic Refrigerator Cookie Dough to suit almost any taste and vary the shape to suit any holiday. This dough can be mixed and stored in the refrigerator, then baked for the occasion.

When it comes to luncheons, dinners or buffets, it is the spark of the unusual that makes your party remembered. The Frankfurter Crown Roast with Vegetable Almond Stuffing is one solution for an economical yet unusual item on the menu. This stuffing recipe is equally good for roast turkey. Broiled Lobster with Potatoes au Gratin is another excellent recipe for just such occasions.

These are a few of the ideas included in this set of 16 "R.S.V.P." recipe cards, which you may obtain free of charge by writing a letter or postcard to "Homemaking Today," 245 Market Street, San Francisco 6.

The broiler is sizzling—yet the kitchen is cool. And there's a hearty, satisfying dinner all ready to go on the table. It was prepared with the speed of a wink . . . and with the speed of a wink it will be eaten!

Broiling—that quick, easy way to cook meat—is so often forgotten! Or, when we do broil, we do so with such reservations that we use only a portion of the broiler at a time. You can broil complete meals, centering them around good meat with its juicy drippings seasoning the vegetables under the rack, while other vegetables or plump fruits heat alongside to acquire crusty, outside coatings. Makes one hungry just thinking about it!

First of all, decide on the meat. There is a wide selection from which you can choose, including ham slices, bacon, lamb, beef, chicken, steaks, chops, ground meat patties, liver, kidney, sweetbreads and other small meats. Pork sausage patties or links are nice for broiling, and so are ready-to-eat meats, such as frankfurters, bologna, liver sausage and sliced loaves. Broiling is not recommended for veal or fresh pork since they are best when cooked well-done by braising.

Steaks and chops should be cut at least ¾-inch thick and a slice of ham no less than half an inch. Thinner cuts dry out and will be more satisfactory if pan broiled.

To broil, turn the oven regulator to "Broil," or to 550° F, leaving the oven door ajar to keep the heat on constantly. It is not necessary to preheat the oven or the broiler pan—and it is much safer handling a cold broiler pan and arranging it in a cold oven. Place the meat on the rack of the broiler pan, scoring the fat to prevent curling at the edges.

Lamb chops, bacon or ham should be cooked well-done, so place these cuts at least 2 inches from the heat. This gives low temperature broiling and well-done meat without burning or charring. In cooking beef steaks, the distance will vary according to the degree of doneness desired. The temperature in broiling is determined by the distance between the source of heat and the surface of the meat.

For a rare steak place the pan so that the surface of the meat is quite close to the heat, thus browning the surface quickly without cooking the center. For medium or well-done steaks, drop the rack down one or two notches.

In turning meat, insert your fork into the fat or use a turner to prevent loss of juice. Turn only once.

Fresh, frozen or canned fruits and vegetables lend themselves to broiler meals and add color. Fresh or frozen vegetables should be cooked first, then added to the rack when the meat is turned. Tomato halves, onion slices and peach and pear halves do not require this precooking.

Interior decoration is something which too often is regarded as being costly—while actually, if you have a lively imagination and nimble fingers, it need not be an expensive project at all.

Color is the clue to the temperament and personality of a room and new color can be achieved inexpensively with home dyeing.

Any home with clothes closets, a linen chest or a scrap bag has a potential source of new decorative effects. Old sheets, bedspreads, table cloths, curtains, draperies, slips and dresses—any discarded fabric that has enough material to stretch across a window or cover a lamp shade—should be considered.

For instance, the old rayon or cotton damask table cloth when dyed a deep rich color, might be just right for draperies or a slip-cover. A large bedspread will furnish enough material for draperies and possibly a dressing table skirt or chair cover. Glass curtains may be retinted and used again, or they may be used as over-drapes across the top of a window where full length draperies wouldn't do.

Chiffon or taffeta from the skirt of a party dress may be used as is, or dyed another color to make a vanity table skirt or a valance at the window. And all the material in an old dirndl skirt is just the thing for a short window curtain where just a flounce across the top is needed.

A luncheon cloth that has been scorched, torn or faded may be made into place mats and dyed to harmonize with breakfast pottery. From a large cloth or two small ones, place mats and napkins may be made and dyed contrasting colors.

Home dyeing is simple if reliable dyes are used and directions are followed carefully. Ordinary household dyes work well on cotton, linen, silk and wool, but are not successful with synthetic materials, such as rayon. If you are not sure what the fabric is that you want to dye, it is wise to use one of the new all-purpose dyes.

Dark colors may be removed first with dye remover if a lighter shade or color is wanted. However, color removers are not intended for use on most synthetics or for certain special dyes, so it is best to test the material first.

Velvety Lawns, Winter Blooms Reward Gardner Who Plants in October

This is one of the best months to put in that new lawn and to fertilize the established lawn.

For a new lawn, spade well and level off any high spots before putting on topsoil. If possible work well rotted manure into the topsoil or work in a good commercial fertilizer at least three days prior to seeding and water in well. The topsoil should be as level and smooth as possible.

Roll lightly, then rough the surface one-half inch deep and sow the seed. Smooth over with the back of the rake and roll lightly. Put on an eighth-inch topping of peat moss and wet thoroughly without washing.

Do not allow to dry out while seed is coming up.

Don't use too much seed. One pound per 200 square feet is the amount recommended for most mixtures.

PERENNIAL PLANTS

To get a full bloom next spring and summer, the flowering perennials should be out now. Plant coral bells for a permanent border in the sun or part shade. Polyanthus Primroses are perfect in mixed colors for that shady border and Gazania can be used for either border or ground cover in the full sun. Plant Mesembryantheum, the brilliant-hued Ice Plant, for rock garden or ground cover. Ice plant needs sun and blossoms in red, orange, yellow, pink, lavender or white. Usually massed according to color. Tall blue, lavender or white spikes of delphinium are ideal for background.

TO PLANT NOW

For winter and spring color, get the following into the ground now: For borders and bedding, the yellow or orange Calendula, Alyssum, Stock, Snap Dragon, English Daisy which comes in red, pink and white. Primula Malacoides in rose, lavender and white may be used for borders and bedding in shade.

Both Nasturtium and Sweet Pea seed should be in now and bulbs should be planted now for spring blossoming.

Poison Oak Found Delicious by Horses

Poison oak is as nourishing a food for livestock as most shrubs, and better than grasses, says Dr. Arthur W. Sampson, professor of forestry in the University of California College of Agriculture. Chemical studies have shown, he says, that in the early leaf stages poison oak contains more protein than even the most nourishing grasses and it maintains satisfactory protein levels throughout the growing season. Unfortunately most animals such as cattle, sheep and boats browse very little on that plant, but horses feed greedily upon the green foliage and tender shoots with no ill effects. The poison oak leaves do no damage to their digestive tracts, and not the slightest blister appears on mouth, nose, eyes, and the other tender parts of their faces.

Family Tree, Redwood Variety, Is Explored

California's coast redwood trees are no direct descendants of the Big Trees but stem from the dawn redwoods, extinct in the United States but recently found still alive in the interior of China. That is the theory of Dr. G. Ledyard Stebbins, Jr., professor of genetics in the University of California College of Agriculture.

It has been proved that, some 30 million years ago, dawn and coast redwoods grew together in West Coast forests. Dr. Stebbins believes that this dawn redwood and another now extinct variety produced a hybrid which, by aberration, doubled and later tripled the chromosomes in their cells, thus producing a new tree—the coast redwood. That would explain why the coast and the dawn redwood have similar cones and foliage although the number of their chromosomes differ widely, while the Big Trees have entirely different outward characteristics although their chromosome number is the same as that of the dawn redwood.

Such aberrations causing chromosome increases, explains Dr. Stebbins, very often produce new species of plants from wild and now often extict varieties. Prominent examples of plants produced by mistakes of nature are tobacco, wheat and cotton.

Voters To Study Politics of Parties

An Institute on "Politics—the People's Business," a nonpartisan, factual analysis of the citizen's part in elections, political parties and governmental processes will be held on the University of California campus Saturday, Oct. 23.

Cooperating with the University of California Department of Institutes in presenting the program will be the Berkeley League of Women Voters and University departments of Sociology and Social Institutions, Political Science, and Economics. Mrs. Harry W. Kingman, Berkeley League of Women Voters, is general institute chairman.

Peter Odegard, newly appointed chairman of University of California's Political Science Department, will give the principal speech at the morning general assembly on the topic, "Booby Traps for Liberals." Discussion groups will then be formed to study questions on how political parties operate, campaign and election techniques, and the functions of voters and political parties between elections.

Afternoon section meetings will be led by University of California and visiting faculty members and include as topics: "Direct Democracy, Politics and Persuasion; Elections, Voters, Parties; and Your Tax Dollar, What Does It Buy?"

SAFETY CAMPAIGN MARKS SCHOOL OPENING

Originator of the Schoolboy Patrol, Sergt. William Fouts, of Akron, looks on approvingly as William O'Neil, right, sponsor of the "Give The Kids A Brake" safety campaign, staged as school opened this fall, explains the theme and hope that lie back of the campaign to Jimmy Penoff, kneeling; Frankie La Rocca, and Eddie Butler, holding "Stop" sign. Jimmy, Frankie and Eddie are Cub Scouts and members of the Schoolboy Patrol and they will take an active part in the plan to reduce accidents as young America returns to the classrooms.

Child Care Centers Aid Broken Homes

The State of California spends on an average more than $400,000 a month to aid the operation of 320 child care centers, mostly in the Los Angeles and San Francisco Bay Region area. During the same time the existence of these centers helped more than 10,000 mothers to make their families self-supporting, earn $1,318,258 a month, release almost 1,400 mothers for much-needed work as teachers, nurses and emergency crop workers, enable 1,011 veterans to continue their study and employ 2,400 people in the centers themselves.

That is the balance sheet of a survey conducted by the University of California College of Agriculture, under the direction of two home economists, Drs. Catherine Landreth and Jessie V. Coles. The survey showed also that nearly half of the children in the centers are of parents whose homes have been broken by divorce or separation, and that in an estimated one half of all unbroken families father's earnings alone were not enough to support the family.

In an appraisal of the child welfare situation the two scientists found that the best way to correct it would be to reduce the divorce rates, raise standard wages and promote social legislation. Under the present circumstances, however, the child care centers seem to be the least expensive and most feasible form of assistance the state can provide.

Navy Will Select Candidates for NROTC College Program Through Aptitude Tests

College aptitude tests for the selection of approximately 2,300 candidates for 1949 college scholarships under the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program will be given throughout the United States, Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico and the Canal Zone on December 11, 1948.

The deadline for submitting applications for the tests, which will be given in 550 cities in the 48 states, is November 15, 1948.

Candidates selected will be given a four-year, government-subsidized college education. The Navy Department pays for their tuition, books, and normal college fees, and in addition provides the student with a $50-a-month living allowance.

Male high school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to take the aptitude tests. Application blanks and complete information concerning the program are available from high school principals, college deans, procurement offices and Navy recruiting stations throughout the country. In San Francisco the office of Naval Officer Procurement is located in the Ferry Building.

In addition to the aptitude test, candidates must meet prescribed physical and mental standards. Those receiving satisfactory marks on the aptitude test will be interviewed and given physical examinations at a later date.

State and territorial boards, composed of prominent civilians and Naval officers, will then review their cases to select the most outstanding candidates. Students from each state and territory compete among themselves for the quota of naval scholarships assigned each state and territory.

The candidates selected will begin the Fall, 1948 term at one of the 52 colleges and universities in which NROTC units are established. They may take any course leading to a bachelor or higher degree, but must include prescribed naval science subjects.

In return for his scholarship, the NROTC student is obligated to participate in naval drills and cruises, and upon graduation, to accept a commission in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, if qualified.

After two years of active duty, he may elect to transfer to the appropriate Reserve Corps and return to civilian life, or he may request retention in the regular service, and if selected, make the Navy or Marine Corps his career.

Candidates are permitted to indicate the colleges they wish to attend, and, subject to quota limitations, will be recommended to the college of their choice. Final enrollment in all cases, however, will be subject to acceptance by the colleges to which recommended.

Students enrolled in the program will be deferred from induction under the Selective Service Act pending completion of their academic course. They must, however, agree to serve on active duty for two years when graduated and commissioned.

State Legion Backs Safety Campaign

Rex Whittemore, newly elected commander of the California Department, American Legion, today endorsed the statewide back to school safety campaign of the California Highway Patrol.

Calling upon all Legion members and the general public, Whittemore said: "Every child's life is precious and every motorist has an obligation to drive carefully when near school grounds. We must be watchful and always remember to give children the 'brake'."

Accident prevention is one of the Legion's national programs.

CANCER TO CLAIM 18 MILLION

Cancer will claim the lives of 18,000,000 of the present population of the United States if present death rates continue, according to the American Cancer Society.

Canned Goods Price Shows Least Gain In Ricing H.C.L.

Canned fruits and vegetables are the most economical buy in your market basket.

These canned products have consistently been listed as the least expensive of the foods included in the periodical reports of the Government's Bureau of Labor Statistics. This Federal agency measures changes in the price of everyday necessities by a cost-of-living index issued each month.

The most recent of the BLS reports, for August, again shows that canned fruits and vegetables are lowest in price of all foods. They also are 17 percent lower in price than the aaverage price of all the so-called cost-of-living items—clothing, rent, food, etc.—which stood at 174.5 percent of prewar.

Prices of all foods averaged 216.6 percent of prewar as of August 15, BLS shows. In the same report, canned fruits and vegetables were only 157.8 percent of the prewar base period 1935-39. The August, 1948, prices of canned fruits and vegetables were about 16 percent below the corresponding figure for January, 1947.

Retail prices of fresh fruits and vegetables have risen to 204.8 percent of prewar. Fresh meats, poultry and fish in the butcher's showcase are shown at 267 percent in the report.

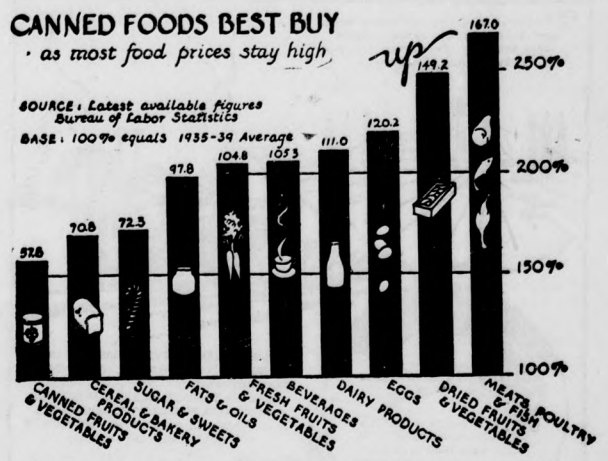
As of August 15, the date covered by the most recent BLS report, foods had increased in price since 1935-39 by the percentages shown:

Meats, poultry and fish	267.0
Dried fruits and vegetables	249.2
Eggs	220.2
Dairy products	211.0
Beverages	205.3
Fresh fruits and vegetables	204.8
Fats and oils	197.8
Sugar and sweets	172.3
Cereal and bakery products	170.8
Canned fruits and vegetables	157.8

Your dollar when spent for the above foods is worth on the average only 46 cents, but when spent for canned fruits and vegetables is worth. 63 cents. Wren you purchase all classes of everyday living needs, including food, clothing and rent, the BLS report indicates that your dollar is worth on the average only 57 cents.

It is evident that thousands of housewives have learned of the inexpensiveness of canned foods. According to a study made recently by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the consumption of canned foods has increased considerably more in recent years than other foods.

Market Basket Bargain



Penny for penny, America's inflation-conscious housewives get most for their food dollar when they shop for canned fruits and vegetables. Latest available U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics figures show the retail average for all foods is up 116.6 percent over 1935-39. As the chart shows, the group of foods registering the greatest price increase was fresh meats, poultry and fish, while canned fruits and vegetables prices increased the least, only 57.8 percent.

Rosenberg Firm Unchanged as Sale Plans Are Abandoned by Cummings

Breaking off of negotiations for the purchase of Rosenberg Bros. & Co. stock by Blair Holdings Corporation was simultaneously announced October 1 by The Cummings Corporation and Blair Holdings Corporation.

Nathan Cummings, president of The Cummings Corporation, stated the sale of the stock had been abandoned after five weeks of negotiations and that in spite of the intensive efforts of the Blair group to solve the complex legal and financial problems involved, it had not been possible to close the transaction.

The announcement stated Arthur C. Oppenheimer, who has been with the firm 49 years, will continue as general manager and director. In a joint statement, Mr. Cummings and Mr. Oppenheimer said: "Rosenberg Bros. business will continue exactly as it has for the past 55 years. The management of the company will be Mr. Oppenheimer's and his associates' responsibility. There will be no change in grower and employee relations or marketing policies."

Mr. Cummings stated there is no further thought of break-up or liquidation of the company. It will be maintained as a separate, independent operating organization.

Change Stand on State Amendments

In resolutions declaring that "the welfare of the community and State transcends partisan politics" the Young Democrats of San Francisco, Inc., today endorsed Proposition 3 on the November General Election ballot and condemned Proposition 13.

The action on each measure contradicts the stand taken at the Democratic State Convention last August and subsequently by the San Francisco County Democratic Central Committee.

The Young Democrats went on record for Proposition 3 and against Proposition 13 through action of the club's citywide Executive Committee consisting of 27 members from San Francisco's nine assembly districts. The Young Democrats are an official branch of the Democratic Party in the State.

Plane To Strew Flowers on Pacific In Memorial Tribute

Flowers honoring the Navy's war dead will be scattered over the Pacific by a Mars flying boat from Alameda Naval Air Station, Sunday, October 24, as part of the annual Navy Day observance.

The 1948 memorial ceremony is a departure from tradition of former years when the flowers were scattered from the deck of a warship.

A Navy chaplain will embark in the Mars to conduct the memorial service.

Relatives and friends of Navy men who lost their lives in World War II may participate in the ceremony by sending a single flower to the District Chaplain, Twelfth Naval District Headquarters, 215 Federal Office Bldg., San Francisco. The flower should arrive not later than October 23.

Campbell Scouts Camp at Stuart

Boy Scouts enjoying the Stuart Scout camp over the week-end included members of Troop 25, sponsored by the Willow Glen Methodist Church and Troop 31 of the Campbell Congregational Church. After hiking in to the camp the Scouts set up their tents with one troop in the Indian Village and the other in the Redwood Grove. Archery contests and Scouting games occupied the afternoon and, after cooking their evening meals by patrols, the troops played wide games. A campfire program with singing and skits concluded the day's activities.

A Scout-planned service with all scouts participating in the program started Sunday off to a good start in spite of the light rain. Instruction in map work and compass training followed under the leadership of two specialists who volunteered their services for the day—Bob McArthur, post advisor for Explorer Post No. 2, and Louis Gibbs, Neighborhood Commissioner from Los Gatos. This held the boys' interest for the entire morning with actual projects of compass training and mapping as a result.

Those attending under the leadership of Scoutmaster LaVern Fine, from Troop 25 were: Tilden Edwards, Warren Stannard, Bob Wilson, David Smith, Dick Miller, Stanley Moore, Jerry Gillis, Sydney Tate, Ray Robinson, Gary Tally, Jack Walther, Jackie Turner and ommy Fidanque.

From Troop 31, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Larry Cowper: Billy Plymale, Clifford Smith, Leon Madden, Leroy Gilliam, Gene Vargas, Tommy Gilliam, Joe Parysek, Robert Smith, Bob Pierce and Darrell Martin.

GIRL SCOUT

CLOTHING KITS FOR NEEDY

First scheduled meeting of Girl Scout Troop 22 was devoted to business and the election of officers. Leseth Hinz was chosen as president, Barbara Wadsworth, vice president; Jacqueline Jansen, secretary; Marion Gould, treasurer, and Mary Anne Parysek, as assistant treasurer.

The troop selected its future individual work for prospective badge awards.

Also being readied for the needy are the European Clothing Kits. These kits consist of assembled outfits including new and usable clothing, thread, needle, soap, etc., adaptable to similarly aged children. This is a nation-wide undertaking with all girls in every troop participating in this great humanitarian relief project. Campbell Girl Scouts will contribute their share toward the million kits, which is the goal set for San Jose area.

The Girl Scouts organization is a Red Feather agency of the Community Chest.

Meat Department Change Announced At Big Boy Market

A change in the management of the meat department at the Big Boy Market, San Tomas Road, is to be made next week when Pat McNally formally takes over the operation. The meat department was formerly operated by Benny Turturici. When he suffered a serious cut on his arm which will permanently put him out of the meat cutting business, the job was taken over by his brother Antone.

Antone, however, is needed in the grocery department which is manager by his sister Angie, and for that reason the meat department is being leased out to McNally. Mr. McNally is a former resident of Cleveland, Ohio. He spent several years in the navy, stationed in California. He visited this area during the war and then and there decided to make his permanent home here.

Christmas and New Year's are observed as world holidays.

Altitudes in San Francisco range from sea level to 938 feet.

LETTERS:

Dear Editor:

There is a Korean Crisis as well as a Berlin Crisis. Korea is most stategically located. It is only a few hours hop to Japan or China and Russian and American troops face each other where the country is divided.

The Reds in North Korea boast that when the American Army leaves, they will take over in the south. Unless the newly created government in South Korea is able, with the help of America, to prove to the people in South Korea that democracy is worth fighting and dying for, the boast may be realized. For long years Korea has been abused and its people bled and oppressed. The new democratic government is headed by men of good character, sincere and earnest, who face death if their government falls to the Reds. It Is vital that America should give to the people of South Korea every support and encouragement or we shall pay heavily for our neglect in the future. In face of this fact, may I quote from a letter received in my office, signed by a Presbyterian missionary and a W.C.T.U. official:

"Seoul, Korea, has almost doubled in population since August 15, 1945, and is now a city of 1,700,000. Among the displaced persons who flood this city with want and hunger the little girls from 10 to 16 are the most pitiful and the most subject to abuse, codl, hunger and every danger. Historically, Korean girls are sent from home at an early age to become apprentices. During the war this custom was diverted into the greatest system of evil procurement of pre adolescent girls for soldiers and the lust of men the world has ever seen. And now many little girls have no family, the 'master' sends the girls out to work on the streets to beg, or sell cigarettes, moth balls, lumps of candy or any kind of stolen goods. Their home is the coldest corner, their food is the leavings from the family bowls, their clothes are seldom more than rags. Their earnings belong to the 'masters.' They are unprotected from the brutality, the greed and passion of any evil person."

I would be glad if those Americans who want to do something for such girls would write to me. China's Children Fund maintains five orphanage-schools in Korea where children are cared for. My address is China's Children Fund, Richmond 5, Virginia.

Sincerely yours,
J. CALVITT CLARKE.

"Facade," a painting by Clinton Adams, assistant professor of art at the University of California at Los Angeles, is the winner of the Pasadena Art Institute Award of Merit in the 28th annual exhibit of the California Water Color Society.

The painting which won the award depicts discarded stage sets on a motion picture studio back lot. The exhibit will remain on view at the Pasadena Art Institute through October 31, and will then circulate to other California cities.

Mr. Adams came to the UCLA from Glendale Junior College in 1942 and was on war leave from 1942 to 1946. Now a resident of Santa Monica, he has exhibited widely in Los Angeles, San Francisco and elsewhere.

Entry was made through a small hinged window about 10 feet above the ground at the rear of the shop. The window opened in, with hinges at the bottom. A chain hodls it from opening over 12 inches. Clear finger prints were left on the dust-covered sill of the window. The prowler apparently tried first to break into John's Jewelry Store, in the same building. Foot prints and marks on the wall were plainly evident. After ringing up a 5 cent sale on the register at the shoe shop, the slippery gent departed via the front door, thoughtfully locking it behind him.

Citizens Form Speakers Bureau On Charter

The Citizens Charter Movement today announced organization of a speakers bureau to discuss the proposed county charter at meetings of clubs and organizations throughout the valley before the November 2 election.

Assemblyman Robert C. Kirkwood, chairman of the movement, reported good response for engagements from an earlier solicitation, mailed to 200 valley organizations, but that speakers were available to fill many more engagements.

"The fact that a group is small should not cause it to hesitate to ask for a speaker," Kirkwood said. "We welcome the chance to discuss the charter with any audience large or small, and to answer all questions concerning it."

Kirkwood's announcement followed a meeting Monday evening at which the Board of Freeholders analyzed the charter in great detail for the Freeholder nominating committee and for interested citizens who had expressed a wish to speak for the charter.
